

Sasa (see her again in the picture above, left) had two series of kittens, featuring in the picture placed right. The first ones (top) were born in 1997, in the same day I left to the US (thirty minutes before, so I got to meet them), whilst the second ones (bottom) were born in 2000.

These pictures show Sasa in some less common hypostases. I just want to mention that Sasa simply enjoys what could seem to humans as some struggle, if not torment, and willingly allowed herself enter all these situations.
